Providing Proof Of The Truth

Response to Riksbanken e-Krona request for information

Suggested Technical platform for a Swedish e-Krona

Version 1.0

Riksbanken is exploring the possibilities to issue a digital alternative to issuing notes, e-kronor. Riksbanken has issued a report and invited stakeholders for comments. This is our submission to the request for information.

1 INTRODUCTION

Enigio Time has since 2013 developed solutions to provide integrity and irrefutability of data. In addition Enigio Time have developed a solution that can create digital originals where it will be possible to prove ownership of an original as well as the difference between an original and a copy. The solution is called trace:original and is subject for a pending patent application; As described below we explain the rationale in using trace:original as a platform for the Swedish e-Krona project.
